ATTENTION
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISERS
A poorly worded, unattractive looking advertisement has very little pulling power.
If your ad is pulling the maximum amount of results there is a reason. We have employed trained men whose business it is to make classified ads pay. They have made a thorough study of classified advertising not only in this city but in other large cities. It will not oblige you in any way to have our representative call on you. We simply want to show you how an intelligent force can be applied to your business.

BAKER SAYS U. S.
HAS OVER 700,000
TROOPS IN FRANCE

Piling up a record in May for troop transport, the nation sent across around a quarter million men.
This brought the shipments past the 700,000 mark, as officially revealed by Secretary of War Baker.
In a few more weeks he will be able to announce the passing of the 1,000,000 mark; and it is assumed he will withhold his next statement until he has reached this good round number.

The Secretary had intended waiting a while longer before making his announcement, but under the inspiration of a talk to French Blue Devils he decided to publish these figures.

Men in charge of transportation declare the U-boats have had absolutely no effect upon troop shipments. Their coming only made these men grit their teeth and say, "Go ahead!"
—and this is what they are doing.

Their theory was that any revelation in troop and supply transport would be a confession of weakness, merely playing into Germany's hands.

However, more June tonnage has been taken up with supplies than was the case in May. The fact that the June troop figures will probably be somewhat lower than the May figures, though it was stated that the advance schedule contemplated making May a banner month and June a lower one.

PRESIDENT FAVORS
PAN-AMERICAN
PROTECTIVE PACT

then you have got a situation of permanent peace. Therefore, everyone seems to be in a happy mood. It is a patriotic duty to his own country to plant the seeds of trust and confidence instead of seeds of suspicion."

The speech in full follows:
"Gentlemen, I have never received a group of men who were more welcome than you are, because it has been one of my misadventures during the period of my Presidency that the Mexican people did not more thoroughly understand the attitude of the United States toward Mexico. I think I can assure you, and I hope you have had every evidence of the truth of my assurance, that that attitude is one of sincere friendship. And not merely the sort of friendship which prompts one not to do his neighbor any harm, but the sort of friendship which earnestly desires to do his neighbor service.

My own policy, the policy of my own Administration toward Mexico was at every point based upon this principle, that the internal settlement of the affairs of Mexico was none of our business; that we had no right to interfere with Mexico or to dictate to her in any particular with regard to her affairs. Take one aspect of our relations which at one time may have been difficult for you to understand.
When we sent troops into Mexico our sincere desire was nothing else but to assist you to get rid of a man who was making the settlement of your affairs difficult for you to understand.
We had no desire to use our troops for any other purpose, and I was in hopes that by assisting in that way and then immediately withdrawing I could get you to get rid of a man who

affairs difficult for you to understand.
We had no desire to use our troops
could get you to get rid of a man who
affairs difficult for you to understand.

My own policy, the policy of my
